Captain Coilings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.

Anyone can use the same method; it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Coilings book, telling all about how he cured himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sefit prepaid to any rupture sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—new—before you put down this paper.

walker W. Vick, former receiver general of customs for Santo Domingo, was the central figure at yesterday's session of the Sullivan inquire. In of the Sullivan inquiry. In response to questions by Counsel Strong, he made vigorous statements controverting the report of Minister Sullivan that he had been able to put an end to political persecutions and the execution of political prisoners in Santo Domingo.

"I know of two or three cases," he said, "where men were pursued into their homes by the rurales and shot down. On June 11 or 12 1 heard shots in the Justice and Courts if Measure fort, and was told that three men had been executed. The fort was filled with political prisoners at that time, and heard of instances where citizens, at-tempting to hold meetings under the assurance by Minister Sullivan that they would be protected in the right of free speech, were shot in the streets," Mr. Vick also told of the murder of Arturo Frietes Roques, a newspaper man, who was hostile to the Bordas govern-

Roques, he said, was shot down opposite the American consulate, and the murderer was given money and sent on a mission to Venezuela. Loan Never Negotiated.

Questioned as to a loan of $500,000 which Minister Sullivan sought to nego-tiate in March, 1914, Vick said he knew oposals were made to the banks, and bad heard that Sullivan had declared the loan would be made whether the Dominican Congress approved it or not. The loan was not negotiated, however. Vick admitted that he did not know whether Sullivan had authority from Washington to proceed in the matter. Vick was asked to answer the testito the island as an expert to investi-gate the record of the director general of public works. Dickey testified on Saturday that he saw Vick "outrage-ously drunk" on two occasions. Vick denied this emphatically, and declared that on one occasion described by Dickey the latter was the only one drunk, if any one was in that condition. "I served him several Scotch highballs myself," said Vick. As to the incident described by Dickey in which he said Vick poured a bottle of beer over the head and down the back tion of the item of the way from his truth in the allegation.

Vick also repeated his denial of the charge made by affidavit that he partici-pated in a drunken orgy at the Shanghai Hotel, and produced letters supporting his denial from a number of men present on the night in question. Another affi-dayit reflected on Vick for his alleged connection with a mining company affair which resulted disastrously for investors. Vick expalined that his connection with the company was solely as an account

THREATENS BIG TANGLE

Alexandria, Va., Feb. 8.—The State senate today passed the bill of Delegate J. Fred Birrell, of this city, repealing the civil and police justice bill and re storing Alexandria to its former legal status as far as the police justice is concerned.

Alexandria appears now to be in a serious tangle, as well-informed lawyers de clare the measure unconstitutional along certain lines, and say that if not vetoed by the governor it will mean that Alex-andria will be without a police justice, leaving the city's trial magistrates with out jurisdiction.
